

VOLUNTEER OF THE QUARTER

4TH QUARTER 2009

Antione Hines

Antione, “Tony” as he is affectionately called, has been an enthusiastic volunteer for the Indian River Library Job Club for over three months. Tony coordinates and helps organize many Job Club events as well as Indian River Library events, including the highly-visible Indian River Job Fair and “Brunch with a Purpose.” He is very involved with the patrons and the community. He has helped increase the club’s visibility, patron participation, club patron retention and the club’s involvement with other library activities.

Tony is a full-time student and a single father. With so many demands to balance like parenting, volunteering, school and church, he still finds time to make a positive impact. He brings an enormous amount of energy to the program, and his commitment has made a great impression on the patrons he serves.

CONGRATULATIONS Tony on all your accomplishments. Thank you for your tireless support to the Indian River Library Job Club!
