

The City of Chesapeake was founded in 1963 by merger of Norfolk County (1636) and the City of South Norfolk (1921). Chesapeake is one of the cities comprising the Norfolk-Virginia Beach-Newport News Metropolitan Area. This area lies in southeastern Virginia at the southern end of the Chesapeake Bay where the mouth of the Bay enters the Atlantic Ocean. Chesapeake is bordered on the west by Suffolk, east by Virginia Beach, south by the North Carolina border and north by the cities of Portsmouth and Norfolk.

With a land area of 353 square miles, Chesapeake is the thirteenth (13th) largest city in land area in the United States and second largest in Virginia. Its central location, availability of land, and good transportation system will continue to contribute to Chesapeake's attractiveness as a well-balanced commercial center. The City's close port proximity and strong employee pool continue to encourage a strong international business presence. Major industries include building materials, plastics, plywood, fertilizer, refrigerators, steel and railroad equipment. Major agricultural crops include corn, wheat, soybeans, nursery products and timber. The Chesapeake Planning Department estimates the City's population reached 225,898 as of July 2011 distributed over 82,145 households. The civilian labor force in the city was 117,911 in 2012.

The City is governed by a City Council / City Manager form of government with nine elected Council members serving four year terms. Chesapeake is an independent city with no overarching county government. This requires that the City provide many of the services to citizens which would normally be provided by a county.

The City's Comprehensive Plan (updated effective February 2014) based on Council-adopted basic policies, provides guidelines for maintaining orderly growth consistent with community goals. The Comprehensive Plan further addresses development potential in the City and recognizes established values of Chesapeake's citizens. The Plan, though general in nature, assesses the City's assets such as parks, waterways, historical areas, as well as areas which will require extensions or renewal, such as potable water and sanitary sewer services, transportation systems, urban renewal areas, etc.

Council's responsiveness to development demands, as well as its commitment to orderly growth, has enhanced those quality of life values Chesapeake's citizens have embraced. The future for Chesapeake remains full of promise and opportunity.
